DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

2. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

3. Claims 16-23, 25-28, 30-33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention lacks patentable utility.

4. Claims 16-23, 25-28, 30-33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is not supported by either an asserted utility or a well established utility.

5. The claims are merely doing signal manipulation with no practical application; i.e. the claims manipulate only number, abstract concepts or ideas or in representing any of the foregoing, the claims are not being applied to an appropriate subject matter.

6. From MPEP 2106: "The claimed invention as a whole must accomplish a practical application. That is, it must produce a "useful, concrete and tangible result." State Street, 149 F.3d at 1373, 47 USPQ2d at 1601-02. The purpose of this requirement is to limit patent protection to inventions that possess a certain level of "real world" value, as opposed to subject matter that represents nothing more than an idea or concept, or is simply a starting point for future investigation or research (Brenner v. Manson, 383 U.S. 519, 528-36, 148 USPQ 689, 693-96); In re Ziegler, 992, F.2d 1197, 1200-03, 26 USPQ2d 1600, 1603-06 (Fed. Cir. 1993))."

Art Unit: 2611

7. Also from MPEP 2106: "Merely claiming nonfunctional descriptive material stored in a computer-readable medium does not make the invention eligible for patenting."

8. The goal of the two-part test is to answer the question "What did applicants invent?" If the claimed invention is a mathematical algorithm, it is improper subject matter for patent protection, whereas if the claimed invention is an application of the application of the algorithm, 35 USC §101 will not bar the grant of a patent. In answering that question, each invention must be evaluated as claimed; yet semantogenic considerations preclude a determination based solely on words appearing in the claims. In the final analysis under 35 USC §101, the claimed invention, as a whole, must be evaluated for what it is (In re Sarker, 200 USPQ 132).

9. In the present application, what is the usefulness of estimating channel and direction of arrival as claimed?

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

10. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

11. Claims 16-23, 25-28, 30-33 are also rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Specifically, since the claimed invention is not supported by either an asserted utility or a well established utility for the reasons set forth above, one skilled in the art clearly would not know how to use the claimed invention.
